

OXFORD.

TELEGRAMS—
"ROEBUCK HOTEL."
OXFORD.

My address from tomorrow will be:—

25 Farndon Road
Oxford

Oct 29. 1906

Dear Sir,

I had lunch yesterday with Prof Margoliouth and his wife, who received me most kindly.
The Professor told me that he will be pleased to do anything he can for me. He asked me to send you the enclosed circular.

I shall be at your service in a very short time, after I have completed the first part of my Dictionary; I think I shall be ready with it in a few days.

Tomorrow I begin to attend the lectures of Prof Raleigh who is lecturing on "Chaucer and his Age". I obtained admission to the Bodleian Library today.

Work is in full swing here already, having begun about the 20th inst.

As regards remuneration, it is rather difficult to make any proposal. Most of the translation work I have done has been for Ministries, and they generally pay me 10 crowns a printed page (= 100 crowns a sheet). In your case, however, I don't exactly know what to ask and must leave it to you to decide. I cannot tell, beforehand, how much work the translation will give me.

With kind regards and thanks for your kind introduction,

I remain

Yours sincerely

Arthur-B Golland